STEPHENSON TELLS MURDER, GRAFT TALE

FORMER KLAN DRAGON LISTS FLOGGINGS IN STORY IN CELL

Deposition Taken in Michigan City, Ind., Prison.

JUSTICE ACTION

Charges Churches Were Burned and Riots Incited.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., April 2.—Tale of crime ranging from floggings to murder and political corruption, committed or sanctioned by the Ku Klux Klan, was revealed here today by D. C. Stephenson, once Indiana klan dragon, and second in command of the national klan.

Stephenson's story was told in his cell in a formal, sworn deposition, given under order of Judge W. H. S. Thompson, of the United States district court of Pennsylvania.

The deposition was taken under direction of Van C. Barrickman, Pittsburgh attorney, who is counsel in a legal suit seeking to oust the klan from Pennsylvania.

When he was flogged, lynched and burned at the stake for opposing the klan, while those higher placed were ruined socially and politically when the organization could not bend them to its will, Stephenson revealed.

Names Victim of Wrath. Catholic churches were burned and pillaged, riots were incited and political officials bent to corrupt ways through orders of the klan chiefs. Parts of the deposition, dealing with murders and political crimes charged to the klan, are withheld pending court action on the disposition.

The published portion, however, reveals the inner workings of the organization as it appeared to the man who once ruled it. It was called by officials who saw the deposition, "the first real unmasking of the klan."

Stephenson told freely of victims of Klan wrath, and of perpetrators of (Continued on Page Eight, Col. Six)

Today

Senator Willis.
The Kaiser's Suite.
Miss Peggy Muses.
War on Rats.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
The opinions expressed in this column are those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.

THE sudden death of Senator Willis, in his battle of Ohio's presidential delegates, ends tragically one phase of the 1928 campaign. Senator Willis would have preferred to die, fighting. Those that know Secretary Hoover know that Senator Willis' death will cause him sincere grief.

A POWERFUL man, never sparing himself, Senator Willis forgot that there are limits to the heart's endurance, a tired heart often succumbs in the most powerful man, wearied by constant strain.

THE dead man's widow attributed the senator's attack to the fumes of smoky fumes that he had been inhaling constantly, in the course of a political parade.

A weak heart, fighting against poisoned air, is in danger.

THE Kaiser's men built a big ship. His royal suites had two large state-rooms, a sitting room, private sun deck, shut off from the crowd, three bathrooms.

Britain grabbed that ship after the war, and renamed her Majestic. His "Majestic" is in Holland, Henry Ford and his wife are on their way to Europe in the Royal suite, Douglas Fairbanks and Mary—your probably know the name, Lloyd George and his wife have used the suite. His Majesty, Kaiserliche majesty, do not expect those passengers.

MR. FORD leaves for a rest. He needs it and deserves it. He tells reporters the new car is running 1,700 (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

Services in Other Churches. Holy Week Solemnity was given further impetus by three addresses by Dr. J. C. Broomfield, of Pittsburgh, last week's speaker, who spoke twice at the First Methodist Protestant church in the morning and again in the evening at the First Presbyterian church.

In addition the Rev. John Darrow, a Missionary to Burma, India, spoke twice at the First Baptist church, he coming from Granville, where he is spending a furlough. Instead of Dr. John Huntley, a Chinese Missionary, who, storm-bound, had to remain in Michigan where he had been last week.

296 FAMILIES MUST VACATE MINERS' HOMES

Federal Eviction Order Stands, Court Rules.

NO POSTPONEMENT

No Punishment Will be Inflicted Before April 15.

COLUMBUS, O., April 2.—Ordering U. S. Marshal Stanley Bortha to proceed at once with the eviction of the 296 union miners and their families in the southeastern Ohio coal fields as directed in a federal eviction order last Jan. 13, Judge Benson W. Hough today refused to grant a postponement, asked by officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

Judge Hough, announced, however, that no punishment will be inflicted upon those miners who refuse to obey the eviction order until after April 15.

General Frank D. Henderson, of the Ohio national guard, was present at the meeting which was held in the judges' chambers. Lee Hall, president of the U. M. W. of Ohio, John Clinque, district president and attorneys for both operators and miners were also present.

Three Avenues for Housing. Three avenues for housing of evicted miners were discussed.

1. The barracks constructed by the U. M. W.

2. The operators suggested use of houses near mines that are not now in operation.

3. General Henderson said that tents were available if the war department would consent.

Another eviction order which is effective May 1, "ousts" 285 other families from the houses they are now occupying. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 people will be homeless by two orders.

Calling for cooperation between the mine union officials and the operators, Judge Hough said he was anxiously awaiting results of the eviction orders as they would probably mark the climax of the coal strike situation in Ohio.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed
External treatments seldom banish Piles.
Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it. J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathew's Original Cut Rate, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

'CHAUTAUQUA' IS PLANNED AT M. E. CHURCH

Dr. James M. Taylor to Speak Tuesday.

WORLD TRAVELER

Sessions to Continue Until Sunday, April 15.

"Church chautauqua" program in charge of Dr. James M. Taylor, world-wide traveler, will be launched tomorrow evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church here. Arrangements for the chautauqua, which will continue nightly until April 15, have been completed by Rev. A. A. Reavley, pastor of the local church. Native ability, magnified by education, study and travel is indicated in the numerous lectures which compose Dr. Taylor's program, marked by humor, graphic description and a dramatic presentation of facts and situations. He has spoken before numerous audiences, including student senates, business groups, religious gatherings such as the annual assembly at Ocean Grove, racial units and university undergraduates. Mrs. Taylor, who has accompanied her husband upon his travels into almost every corner of the world, tells a series of interesting stories pertaining to the women of the world. These she relates at the special meetings for women. Mrs. Taylor also organizes the "Kiddies' Club" through which she entertains youngsters between the ages of seven and 15. The son of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, a recent university graduate, brings the atmosphere of the younger generation to the chautauqua. He will have charge of the young people's program. One of the features of the chautauqua will be the display of curios gathered from various parts of the world. These will be shown in a separate room of the church. In connection with the display of curios there will be a pageant, requiring about 40 characters, dressed in the garb of many people. Rev. Reavley extends an invitation to the public to attend the meetings.

COUNTY AUDITOR WALKER MAILED CHECKS FOR $1,091,262 IN TAXES

Final Settlement of December Collection is Made With Sub-divisions and Boards of Education.

LISBON, April 2.—County Auditor Elmer E. Walker has distributed $1,091,262.58 as a final settlement of the December tax collection.

There has been paid out for educational purposes a total of $626,172.54. The final settlement totaled $348,872.54, while $277,390 advanced to boards of education. The fund tops the list. From the December settlement the state has received $61,519.34 and the various townships have been paid a total of $81,229.94. The settlement totaled $72,029.94 and advances $9,200. Less money was advanced municipalities than school boards. Advances to cities totaled only $73,750. Warrants for final settlements totaled $248,590.76.

For a number of years it has been noted that more money is collected through taxation for educational purposes than for any other cause. During the last year the budget commission was compelled to reduce applications for increases in order to keep the tax rate for different districts within the law.

FUEL CO. SUIT IS DELAYED

West Point Given Until April 20 to Answer.

LISBON, April 2.—In the case of the Seger Fuel company, of Legouier, Pa., which operates the coal mines at West Point, against Charles Bogatay and others, the court has granted the defendants for the second time an extension of time to file their answer. The date has not been set for April 20. The plaintiff seeks a permanent injunction to restrain the defendants from interfering with employees of the company.

A motion to dismiss the petition has been overruled by Judge W. F. Lones in the action filed by Charles W. Hall against W. S. Marshall, wherein the plaintiff claims $1,000 due him. This case has been pending since Feb. 2, 1927.

The court has granted leave to the Wallace Manufacturing company and the Tropical Paint & Oil company, to file amended answers in the case of the Crocker City & Ice Products company, against the Crystal Ice Cream and Bottling Co., of East Liverpool. In this case the court is asked to issue an order setting up claims before final disposition of the action.

Leave has been granted Florence Menough to file an answer on or before April 9 in case of the Toledo Plate & Window Glass company against John C. Campbell. A demurrer to the petition has been sustained by the court in the action filed by the Big Seven Oil & Gas company against the First National Bank of East Palestine. This suit is a suit to recover a claim of $1,000.

The case of H. Walbarst & company against A. Shapiro has been dismissed by the plaintiff at his cost.

BAUKNECHT CALLS FOR TRANSCRIPTS

LISBON, April 2.—Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht today issued a call for the immediate filing of transcripts from lower courts with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine.

"We want these transcripts at once," Bauknecht declared. "The April grand jury will convene next Monday and our office desires to have the side of the state ready for presentation. It is our experience that some justices of the peace and mayors, too, are very slow."

All outstanding transcripts should be in the hands of Clerk Ballantine, not later than Wednesday, Bauknecht said.

EX-HUBBY HELD FOR NON-SUPPORT

LISBON, April 2.—It was April 15, 1926, when Martha Hirtz of Salem filed an affidavit in Juvenile court against her then husband John Hirtz, for non-support. The couple has three minor children, Ruth, Dolores and John Hirtz. Before the warrant could be served on Hirtz, who then lived at 87 Franklin street, Salem, he left the state.

He returned to Salem last Friday night and was immediately arrested, and committed to the county jail at Lisbon in default of bond. Since the warrant was issued Mrs. Hirtz obtained a divorce and married again. Hirtz was to be given a hearing today.

LEETONIA NAMED IN TWO SUITS

LISBON, April 2.—The village of Leetonia failed to file its answers to the two temporary restraining orders issued by common pleas court as formerly agreed upon in the cases of Chas. S. McKeefrey and William D. McKeefrey, and as a result Judge W. F. Lones has granted the city solicitor leave to file these papers on or before April 7.

Both plaintiffs seek a injunction to restrain the collection of special sewer assessments, the claim being set up that the property assessed is outside the corporation limits and not directly benefited.

Partition Case Settled. LISBON, April 2.—The report of the commissioners has been confirmed in the partition action filed in common pleas court by John S. Rardon against William Mitcheson and other. The plaintiff has elected to take the property at the appraisal value, and the court has ordered a deed delivered upon the payment of the money. A decree of distribution has also been ordered.

Spring Clean-Up

With spring officially ushered in, East Liverpool should give some thought to a clean-up of the winter's accumulation of refuse, etc., which is not only detrimental from a standpoint of health but is also a fire menace.

With March at an end, it is time for the observance of Clean-up Week. Usually the first or second week of April is designated for this purpose in most cities, and East Liverpool is no exception to the rule.

This question is expected to be considered by the health board at an early session. Some plan should be devised for the co-operation of the service department in the movement, while at the same time an inspection of buildings looking toward eradication of possible fire hazards would be timely.

Back yards as well as front yards should be attacked in the clean-up drive. All inflammable substances which have been stored in attics and cellars and other out-of-the-way places should be removed. And then civic pride undoubtedly will prompt attention to lawns and flower beds.

And, too, the street department, which usually assists in such movements, should apply brush and water to streets which have had little attention during the winter. Let's make it a general clean-up.

Menace to Old World Peace

Frank H. Simonds, now touring Europe, sends back word that unless Europe changes its ideas about many things, the Polish-German quarrel over the national boundary between these nations will always menace the peace of the Old World, and points out that he has little hope of an amicable understanding being arrived at between these powers.

If Simonds is right in his diagnosis of a particularly embarrassing situation, then there is a problem which merits the immediate attention of the League of Nations. Reduced to its lowest terms, as one not entirely familiar with all the intrigues of Germany-Poland diplomacy sees the situation, the whole problem turns upon the single issue of the Polish corridor.

Will Germany consent to recognize as permanent this creation of the Paris peace conference, under the inspiration of President Wilson? Will Poland, in return for German and European concessions, and guarantees elsewhere, agree to a revision, to the suppression of this avenue to the open sea, which cuts straight across old German territory and divides East Prussia from the Reich?

After a month devoted to examination of the question, Simonds says certain conclusions are inevitable.

In the first place it is the consensus of all informed and authoritative opinion that no eastern Locarno is at the present hour even thinkable. And the reason is, he points out, that no statesman, party or public man in Germany could retain the smallest degree of power or influence if he even conditionally suggested the possibility of a German acceptance of the present frontiers.

And just as patently, it seems, that not even the Polish dictator, Pilsudski, himself, could last beyond the day on which he consented to revision of Polish frontiers in the corridor.

In the last analysis the reason appears simple. The question of the so-called corridor—for no Pole admits the name—is not a question of territory. Were it so, the solution would be simple. It is the question of the Polish people.

Moreover, it is of no use to discuss the historical aspects of the case.

The Polish case cannot be viewed with clarity. Poland is a great state, measured by European standards. But with the corridor in German hands, Poland has no outlet to the sea. Every line of export would pass through German territory to German ports.

On both sides of the frontier it seems there are marked psychological changes. "The German has ceased to regard Poland as a season-state. He now accepts Poland as a new but permanent, if annoying, fact in Europe.

The Pole, quite justly now, conscious of his growing strength, economic and political, is losing the nervousness, the traditional and not unwarranted apprehension based on past events.

And unless Europe comes to a new state of mind, the Polish corridor, it appears, will be productive of new wars, just as it has been the cause of old strife. The problem, then, is for the League of Nations, to bring about a peaceful settlement of this difficulty—there must be an outlet to the sea for Poland, and this outlet must be through Germany territory and into Germany ports.

Chain Schools

Mrs. Alice Ensor, founder of a very modern, experimental school in England, says she is now planning a chain of schools in England, Germany and France which will carry the same courses. Thus a pupil may spend a year in each country learning the language and viewpoint, and at the same time prepare for college entrance.

That is an attractive plan. The value of foreign travel and study for young pupils as well as for graduate students and teachers is recognized today in many educational movements. A school which gave the pupil his first year in his native land, and the other years in other countries, ought to accomplish a good deal in the way of broadening outlook and culture. Such schools, of course, are still available only to a limited group of boys and girls, but they point a new way. Some day, perhaps, many young people will have similar opportunities.

Farmer Tourists

There is going to be a new type of tourist invasion of Europe next summer. Five hundred American farmers are going en masse to visit England, Scotland, Denmark, Belgium, Germany, France, Holland and the Island of Guernsey.

It is not a sightseeing trip. Those farmers are going for information about their own business. They will study planting methods, fertilization of the soil, irrigation, reclamation of slope land, slaughtering, egg packing and numerous other things that are done very well in the countries they expect to visit.

One thing particularly they will be keenly interested in. That is co-operative farming, in which some parts of the Old World are far ahead of America.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—The subject of skyscrapers is one which increasingly is causing concern to their designers, to engineers, and to building inspectors upon whom rests the responsibility for the safety of the occupants. Several factors contribute to this concern.

One of the chief of which is wind pressure. Buildings of such great height as the Woolworth Tower in New York, the Tribune Tower in Chicago, and many other soaring edifices must be able to resist wind pressure of tremendous force. Only in recent years have engineers had much occasion to study wind force against buildings, but it now has become a major element in construction design.

The great Miami hurricane of September 18, 1926, which wrecked and twisted steel buildings as though they had been made of light timbers, brought valuable lessons to skyscraper designers. The force of wind has been paid too little attention perhaps because it is an invisible force. But in blowing against broad surfaces such as that presented by a tall building, even a relatively light wind exerts a notable pressure. It has been scientifically determined that at twenty miles an hour a wind exerts a pressure of 1.6 pounds a square foot; at fifty miles an hour, 10 pounds a square foot, and at one hundred miles and hour, 40 pounds a square foot.

Provided an adequate foundation is built, engineers do not think it probable that a skyscraper is ever likely to be completely overturned by wind pressure but it is definitely known that steel work can be twisted and wrested out of plumb. This might have very serious results. Elevators, for example, might be dropped and electrical contacts or boilers disturbed to such an extent that the fire hazard would be great.

During the Miami hurricane the seventeen story Meyer Keyser building was badly twisted and distorted. The fifteen story Realty Board building, on the other hand, was not. This latter building swayed to such an extent, however, that the top inclined as much as eighteen inches. Yet, when the wind had abated, the building was found to be vertical again.

Steel structure designers have made some important changes in skyscraper buildings as the result of study of the experience of these buildings in the Miami storm. It was found that the twisting of the Meyer Keyser building was due to the fact that a box-like construction in squares had been employed. This has been usual in steel construction because diagonal girders, it was feared, would interfere with openings, doors, and windows.

The matter of foundations in New York City is causing more concern than formerly. New York for long was thought to be founded on bed rock but as borings and excavations have been sunk deep and deeper as buildings have grown taller, it has been found that foundations now frequently penetrate the rock crust and reach the slime. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York sunk its foundations five stories below the surface and found this slime and then sunk piers down to another layer of rock. The result is a solidly placed building but one with a moat of mud surrounding it.

The theory has been advanced by geologists in the light of such experience, that Manhattan Island may be a rock ledge sticking from the main mass of granite which the surrounding country rests upon and the suggestion has been made that the piling of all the vast tonnage of stone and steel might cause the lower end of this rock ledge to break off and sink into the sea. No one seems to be worrying much about that, however.

A. In the pit, 5000 can be seated; in the gallery, 1600; in the boxes, 480; and on the speakers' stand, 50. This makes a total of 7130. The structure is built of marble and cost $1,000,000.

A. Captain Wren is listed as "Late of Indian Educational Service and Indian Army Reserve of Officers. Educated at Oxford. Served in British, French and Indian Armies. Active in East and North Africa. Retired in 1917."

Q. What is an anticline? Can it be detected at the surface of the earth? R. T. M.

A. The Geological Survey says that an anticline is an upfold in rocks, and such a fold in deposits, that are buried beneath formations of more recent geologic age that were not subjected to the folding, can not be detected at the surface. Such upfolds—called anticlines—are regarded as favorable to the accumulation of oil and it is for this reason that oil prospectors endeavor to locate such structures.

Q. Is the motion picture field well developed in Argentina? C. M.

A. The motion picture field is thoroughly covered in Argentina. There are many fine structures devoted entirely to this particular kind of entertainment.

It is a Society organized in 1925, by a group who felt that there should be some medium of contact between women distinguished in geographical work and its allied sciences—ethnology, archaeology, botany, natural history, sociology, folk-lore, arts and crafts, etc. For Active Membership in this Society only those women are eligible who have done distinctive work whereby they have added to the world's store of knowledge concerning the countries in which they have traveled. Ritzy Rosey

At any other time Ritzy Rosey might be thinking invidious things about motorists in general and this one in particular—but not so today. For she is wearing one of the new "spatterproof" hose which shed water too. Mud is easily brushed off, leaving no mark or discoloration. Ritzy is also wearing a pair of the new pumps, fashioned after the strapped and tongued boots which were popular all winter.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Diary of a modern Peppy: Early to the West street docks to say farewell to friends and glad they sailed and not I, and remained an hour watching gulls wheeling overhead, screaming their strangely human cries. And how they sight liners at sea beyond range of glasses has always fascinated me.

Home and came Arthur S. Hoffman, editor of McClure's and we talked of things grave and gay and later with my wife to drive to the Battery and Broadway so swiftly changes, even in the brief time I've been away I scarcely knew it, and back through Chinatown and the Bowery.

To dinner at Marion Gillespie's and had our fortunes told and home again where I heard Ray Long, Jr., had cried so over a little boy being lost in a bed time story his mother had to read it all over again revamping the story into a happier ending. So to bed.

One of those British gentlemen hemming and hawing in treble clef was listening to a lady on a bus stop express eagerness to see a certain play. Finally he said: "The chances are you'd be so disappointed you'd be surprised." And somehow it sounded like somebody falling downstairs.

The bootleggers have taken to studios. Their professional cards give their names and addresses of their "studios" where they receive orders by phone and where select customers may drop in around the cocktail hour and have a few samples. The artists have left the studios and moved to the saloons. The world grows grander.

Several producers have stopped selling standing room on opening nights. They argue the shuffling and whispering among standees in back of the house seriously disturbs the running of a play which is bad enough at any odds at the initial performance. Patrons who buy S. R. O. tickets are not those suffering from lack of means. Many regular theatre goers prefer a place at the rail. They are usually those who want to see a particular scene, hear a song or such and can slip in and out without interruption.

On some theatrical bulletin boards these days are posted "celebrity lists." This gives players a chance to know what famous people are in the audience and often inspires them to best endeavor. It also gives comedians acting as masters of ceremonies a chance to mention or introduce this or that notable in the audience.

The first night mostly desired by producers continues to be Mayor Walker. He gives a gathering a New York halo and there is all the motor cycle hurrah before and after the arrival and departure of an official car.

However, if there are too many official cars at a first night the proletariat is out of luck. The street is cleared for official cars and there seems to be an impressive sort of ceremony for which the ordinary run of folk must wait, which is not so bad if it isn't raining.

House robes have become an almost necessary part of a man's wardrobe. They used to be unusual—like a monocle or a girl who smoked. But today in hotel lobbies you often see men in robes who have come down for stamps, newspapers or to greet a friend, and I am told many men who are not called upon much to meet people wear them in their offices. A furnisher on Madison avenue says he used to sell about twenty robes a year. Now the number reaches several thousands.

The play called "The Royal Family" is said to be a travesty of the talented Barrymores. As you've probably heard, the authors are reported to have submitted the script to one of them and asked if there were any changes desired. The reply was that the recipient did not care ever to speak to the authors again. That is the precise attitude, I suspect, that makes the Barrymores a topic for travesty.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Taking care of a baby is one of the most exacting jobs in all the world. You may think it is hard to run a farm, or operate a drug store, or practice law. But I give you my word it is harder work to take care of one husky infant than it is to do all these other things combined.

I should pity a young mother if I thought only of what she has to do. But God is good. There is a reward of satisfaction in motherhood that is above every other human reward. Seeing the baby grow up and develop into useful citizenship is joy unspeakable.

My duties carry me here and there about the country. I spend many hours on railroad trains. It is a common experience to see a couple traveling with two or three young children.

Who is it holds the tired head and finds new form of play for a restless child? Who prepares the feeding for the baby and supplies a lunch for another hungry mouth?

It is the mother, of course. Poor papa sits about, feeling and looking as helpless and out of place as a rabbit at a wedding.

Every mother has an exacting and difficult job. It takes brains, energy, tirelessness, sleeplessness, resourcefulness and every other good quality to do it well.

The young mother with her first baby is in a very trying and exhausting position. She has so much to learn, poor soul!

I have heard my own mother tell how scared she was over the gurgles and funny sounds that were uttered by her first baby. On many occasions she was sure, she said, that the youngster was about to die.

Everybody is touched by the crying of a babe. It always means something, and the young mother has to learn just what each kind of cry indicates, so far as her baby is concerned.

Sometimes we will consider at length what the cry of a baby may mean. Today I want to remind you that it may mean that the baby is thirsty.

Nobody can have good health without taking lots of water to drink. The wastes of the body are carried away and the more water we take, the more readily are these poisons eliminated.

The food we take is of no value to us unless it is dissolved and made ready for absorption into the blood. Without water we would dry up and die.

Many a baby has gone thirsty because the young mother was never told how necessarily it is to give the infant a drink ever once in a while.

Once Overs

BY J. J. MUNDY

Have You Time to Find Fault? It is easy to find fault with the way another conducts his business.

But the one who is prone to such criticism is more than likely the one whose own affairs are not getting proper attention.

If you conduct your own business or affairs as they should be managed you would not have time to notice what others are not doing.

This is a pretty good way to check up on yourself.

It is easy to get into ruts; it is easy to divide your attention over so many things that none is well done. When you scatter your forces you are not putting defenses against competitors.

Doubtless in your place of employment there are many who criticize.

But if they were doing their best in the place assigned to them there would be less talk about other's work and more getting down to cases.

If you regulate your own affairs to the best of your ability you will not have so much to say about the way others attend to their responsibilities. (Copyright 1928 International Feature Service.)

Another Wise Decision.

Governor Donahay again has displayed his wisdom in the handling of the Ohio mine situation by his refusal to send troops into Jefferson county at the behest of a panic-stricken sheriff. Relying on the reports of his official observers in the field, officers of the national guard, the governor advised the sheriff to depurate as many citizens as necessary to disperse or arrest violators of the law.

Nothing would so effectively fan the flame of dissension in the mine districts at this time as the unnecessary dispatching of troops. The very presence of the guardsmen, except under conditions that made their use imperative, would be inflammatory.

The governor made a sincere effort to bring about a settlement of the dispute between the miners and operators and failed. His plan for sending relief to the innocent victims of this warfare—the women and children—already has been commended by public and press. His calm, thoughtful and strategic efforts to prevent violence are worthy of the same praise.—Columbus Dispatch.

Ben F. Hall Electric Shop Always Ready To Attend Your Needs

Electricity is one of the world's most dependable workers.

It moves the wheels of progress throughout the civilized world. It shoots ponderous cars over shiny steel rails, moves massive tons, and on the other hand, it will sweep the floor, illuminate the home, and answer the beck and call of the busy housewife, who is rapidly becoming less busy because of electricity.

If your home is not electrified, you are missing one of the greatest products of our time that skill and science have devised.

With expert workmanship and equipment always available through such firms as the Ben F. Hall company, Market street, and at reasonable prices, every home, wherever possible, should enjoy the advantages of electricity.

The Ben F. Hall company specializes in house wiring and similar work and is willing and ready at all times to investigate your needs and will submit estimates on your work, whether it is a complete installation, an addition to your present wiring system or simply repair work.

Remember Citizens' Lumber Co., When You Need Supplies

If you are thinking of spring building, remodeling or repair work about the house or the premises in general, don't forget, in your plans and estimates, to include the quality materials of the Citizens' Lumber Company.

Carrying a complete line of lumber, lime, cement, plaster and, in fact, all kinds of building materials, the Citizens Lumber company can be depended upon for first class service on whatever job you contemplate.

The Citizens' Lumber Company has been established for a number of years, with offices and yards at Stop 54 on the Y. & O. railroad. Well fortified financially and owning their own properties, they can well afford to meet competition in prices.

Besides lumber of all kinds, this firm carries a special in Ford Cyclone shingles, guaranteed rain proof, snow proof and generally impervious to all weather conditions.

Their accessory line is complete with the addition also of Sheetrock, nationally advertised, insulating wallboard, and Upson board.

Quality and Service Are Emphasized by Golden Star Dairy

The Golden Star Dairy Company, located along the Lincoln highway, was probably one of the first in the state to take active steps toward the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

This is one of the outstanding reasons for the remarkable growth of this company in the East Liverpool district. The result of their efforts to eliminate any possible chance for contamination of their milk products was quality, and, in buying milk, people want quality above all else.

The Golden Star Dairy company was among the first in Ohio to compel its producers to test their herds and claims the distinction of being the pioneers in this locality to adopt this drastic and effective measure, at a considerable expense, for the protection of its patrons.

By careful inspection of the producers' barns and dairies and rigid enforcement of the latest improved methods in handling they have been able to maintain the high standard of quality which has been a distinguishing feature of Golden Star products ever since the first quart of this milk was offered for sale in East Liverpool.

While paying special attention to quality at all times the company has never lost sight of the fact that prompt, courteous service is of equal importance.

Porter's Practical Plumbing Work Will Stand Time's Test

While theory has its place in everything, including plumbing, there's nothing that beats a practical plumber who can run down a joint that stays jointed and who knows how to overcome trouble when he meets it.

As a general rule, a plumbing job of any consequence means quite a little outlay of cash, especially, for instance, the installation of a complete system in a new home or building, and the man who pays the bill naturally wants results, not for a few weeks or a month, but for many years.

C. K. Porter, of Virginia avenue, has been in the business for a number of years, and is known to no few of his friends and customers as a workman of keen, practical ability.

He is equipped to handle contract work on practically any job, or any system—hot water, gas or steam fitting.

Results, of course, tell the story better than anything else, and Porter's work is known for its ability to stand the test of time.

Ceramic Cafeteria Is Everything That Patrons May Wish

The food may be right, but, to the person of discrimination, if the service, or the services, are sloppy, or if the environment is not of the best, the meal may be all wrong.

A meal, meaning everything that goes to make up a meal and its service, is constituted of many component parts.

The food may be prepared expertly but if everything else is not up to the same standard the diner probably loses his appetite.

Cleanliness is one of the most important parts of satisfactory restaurant or cafeteria service.

The Ceramic Cafeteria, just a few steps off Market on West Fifth street combines them all.

Here you are able to enjoy your meal in a pleasing, restful atmosphere, and, too, you have additional advantage of being able to select your food as you see it and as you want. You see what you buy and you need take nothing more. There's economy in that, as well.

Fresh Supply of Easter Flowers is Ready at Riverview

Easter Sunday is but a week away. It should be a day of reverie and beauty. Flowers, sweet, perfumed buds and blooms of varied tints and hues will decorate homes throughout the city, lending their attractiveness and inspiration to the day.

Fresh flowers, potted plants, blooms of all description will be in demand throughout the week.

Anticipating the wants of the city, the Riverview Greenhouses, in Anderson Boulevard, is in better position this year than ever before to cater to the necessities of every one.

As a result of the company's recent expansion, through which the capacity of their greenhouses has been practically doubled, they will be able to give twice the service they gave last year.

The company's line of flowers, including just about anything that any one would want, all the prettiest blooms that it is possible to raise, cut flowers, potted plants, a wide variety, has been prepared for the Easter season.

The Riverview company invites flower buyers to inspect their complete stock at their greenhouses in Anderson Boulevard. But, of course, a personal visit is not necessary. A telephone call will be given just as much attention. Prompt deliveries to all parts of the city are guaranteed.

THE 81ST ANNUAL REPORT of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, covering operations for the year 1927 will be formally presented to the stockholders at the annual meeting on April 10, 1928. The net income for the year, amounting to $68,160,296, was equivalent to 13.6% upon the capital stock outstanding, as compared with 13.5% in 1926.

LEAVING NET INCOME (Equal to 13.6% on Capital Stock) of.....	$68,160,296 I $592,337

After providing for the payment of 7% dividends to the stockholders and also providing for sinking and other reserve funds the Company earned a SURPLUS for the year of $28,046,355, equivalent to more than 5 1/2% on the capital stock.

The successful achievement in financial results of the past year, in spite of the reduced volume of business, was made possible by large capital expenditures to improve and expand the railroad's plant and facilities; by operating economies and efficiency, and by increased vigilance and cooperation on the part of officers and employees. Not the least satisfactory feature of the year's experience was the cordiality of relationship between the Management and employees.

Dr. Robertson Speaks
in First Presbyterian Church.

"HOME" SUBJECT
Glasgow Scotland, Pastor to Deliver Five Discourses.

Before many business men and women Dr. John Robertson, of Glasgow, Scotland, spoke at the First Presbyterian church at noon today in the first of five midday Holy Week services. His subject was "Home."

His 30-minute remarks were based on Jesus' return to the home of Martha and Mary following His visit to Jerusalem on Palm Sunday.

He pictured the delights of home and its strong appeal after a day of hard work.

"The Master was humanly tired after his great reception in Jerusalem on that first Palm Sunday," he said. "And it was with a heart full of anticipation and gratitude He returned to the home of His friends to rest for the ordeals that He knew soon awaited Him."

"It is beautiful to envisage a home at eventide with the lights glowing in windows. The broken cheer and relaxation within."

"To such a place will Christians retire when life's duties have been completed. It is a place where the soul can find rest and where the weary find refreshment."

"To such a place will Christians retire when life's duties have been completed. It is a place where the soul can find rest and where the weary find refreshment."

"Home, surpassing the finest comforts of mundane homes are for those who live lives hid in the Christ. It is to begin such a life we appeal during Holy Week to those not having done so. To bolster those on the way and keep them steadfast on the 'straight and narrow way' is our purpose."

"And to enjoy the full comforts of this permanent, beatific home one must be genuinely tired in spiritual endeavor. They that are hungry really enjoy food. So the tired the more appreciate rest."

Services began at 12:10. The service began promptly at 12:10 and closed at 12:50 o'clock, so as to enable all wishing to do so to return to their labors in plant, office and store.

A similar interval will be devoted to another service tomorrow at which Dr. Robertson will speak. His service at the First M. E. church tonight begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Robertson's son, the Rev. Ian Robertson, of Worcester, Ohio, with whom he has been visiting, has just been called from the pastorate of the St. James Episcopal church of that city to the senior curate of the Cleveland Episcopal cathedral, he announced.

He will succeed Canon Mellett, who goes to Detroit, Mich., and with his bride is to assume his new duties on April 15.

Bishop Warren Lincoln Rogers, his immediate superior, is for the fourth consecutive time the Lenten noonday speaker in Cleveland this week.

"I take communion each Sunday morning while staying with my son," he declared. The latter was born and educated in Scotland.

CHASSIS
On Display

Have you ever actually been permitted to view with your own eyes a cut-away chassis of an automobile, one that shows every moving part and its relation to every other moving part; just how the engineers have worked out the assembling of parts to reduce friction, eliminate wear and produce long life. In fact, this chassis has the parts cut away to the extent that you can see and learn more about an automobile in ten minutes than the average person can learn about one in a lifetime, without seeing such a chassis as we are showing during this Special Display Week.

You owe it to yourself to have this knowledge.

We invite you to come in and see this wonderful piece of mechanism with free admission and without obligation.

DOLORES DEL RIO AND HUSBAND
SEPARATE, BUT FROWN ON DIVORCE

NEW YORK, April 2.—"There will never be a divorce between us—it would be too terrible!" Dolores Del Rio and her husband, Jaime, are in one accord on that score. But as for separation, she is in Hollywood and he is in New York City, with no intention of going out to the film colony, where he is known as "Mr. Dolores Del Rio."

"I want to be somebody in my own name," Jamie said, "and that is impossible out there. But my wife and I love and understand each other, and will not be broken apart by bushy bodies. We will manage to see each other as often as possible."

In Hollywood, Miss Del Rio was equally emphatic, but took their separation more seriously:

"My husband and I have decided we must each pursue our own careers. But we are both perfectly friendly and believe divorce is a terrible thing."

Holy Week Services

Services will be conducted every night this week at the Emmanuel Presbyterian chapel, Park boulevard. Rev. Edgar A. Walker, pastor, will preach on "The Seven Words from the Cross" at each service. Special music will be rendered.

Members of the Second United Presbyterian, Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal and Second Presbyterian church will meet every night this week for song, testimony and prayer. The services tonight and tomorrow night will be held in the Second United Presbyterian church, while the Wednesday and Thursday services will be held at the Pennsylvania Avenue church. Friday and Saturday night's services will be held in the Second Presbyterian church.

Dr. John Robertson, Scotch Bible student and orator, will conduct services at the union meetings of the First Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Methodist Protestant, First United Methodist Presbyterian and First Methodist Episcopal churches. Services will be held each noon from 12:10 to 12:50 in the First Presbyterian church and in the evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church. His subject at the noon-day meetings will be "Our Lord's Steps to the Cross," and at the evening service, "The March of the Men."

a day, and expects 5,000 daily this summer.

London placed orders for 100,000 new Ford's in a week and Mr. Ford, who never really rests, will doubtless arrange for several European factories inside the tariff walls built to keep out our automobiles.

WHILE a detective watches her $450,000 diamond, Miss Peggy Joyce tolls inquiring correspondents eager for great news, that her next husband "must shape up mentally."

COUNTING them every one apart, as in the song about the rosary, Miss Joyce finds that some of her husbands have not measured up in intellect.

After all, a $450,000 diamond is not so much, unless a brilliant thought goes with it.

She is inclined to give the "companionate" idea a trial.

YOU can't judge a husband candidate's mind by the preliminary suppers. And a girl can't be too careful. "Don't forget," says Peggy, "the lovely lines Tennyson wrote, 'Thou art mated with a clown, and his lack of brains shall have strength to drag thee down.' No more of that for me."

THE League of Nations proposes international war against rats for their complete extermination.

Such a war, made to include mosquitos and flies, would be the best war in history. It would save every year in lives and money as much as the big war cost in any year.

NO MORE rats, no more bubonic plague.

No more mosquitoes, no more yellow fever, or malaria.

No more tea-tie flies, no more sleeping sickness.

No more house flies, no more filth dragged over the food of young children.

IT WOULD be interfering with nature's plans, perhaps. Darwin says a pair of tropical flies and their maggot offspring can dispose of a lion's carcass in a few hours. Kill all the lions and the flies would not be needed to dispose of the carrion.

MAYOR THOMPSON of Chicago says "In Chicago, crime is not worse than elsewhere, but other places less frank, tell their crime."

Chicago's undeserved crime reputation springs from a strange pride in Chicago's killing gangsters. They want the world to know about them.

They killed Diamond Joe with 58 bullets in the back, when eight would do. They killed a man, soaked him in gasoline and set fire to him. And when their man is dead, there is a great funeral, with airplanes scattering roses in the path of the corpse.

Such advertising must produce results.

WHAT is more important than a few gang fights and bombings, Mayor Thompson tells reporters "The April tenth primary will vote on a $79,000,000 public improvement bond issue that will put 150,000 men to work." Al so, says Mayor Thompson, "In two years the lake-to-lake waterway will be completed, and steamers from New Orleans will blow their whistles on Chicago's lake front."

That kind of mayor remains popular. He believes things can be done, and does them.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the death of our little son, Jack. Especially do we thank Rev. Britton and singers, those who sent the floral offerings and those who loaned the use of their cars.

MR. AND MRS. J. EDGAR CURRY AND FAMILY.

Club's Condolences
Sent to Senator's Widow.

The East Liverpool Women's Republican club has telegraphed condolences to Mrs. Nellie Willis, Delaware, expressing the organization's sympathy in the death of her husband, United States Senator F. B. Willis, Ohio's favorite son candidate for president, who died of cerebral hemorrhage at Delaware Friday night. The message was signed by Mrs. Estella Swearingen, secretary.

Ward chairmen were planning a series of women's political rallies in each of the 22 voting precincts of the city at the home of Mrs. Mae Joseph, chairman, Friday night, when the news of Senator Willis' death was received.

Plans for the proposed series of meetings will be held in abeyance until after the funeral of Senator Willis.

BEAGLE HOUNDS
AWARDED PRIZES

Two beagle hounds owned by Michael Camarda, West Fifth street, captured prizes at a trail run held at Rockwell lake, near Kent, yesterday.

"Ohio Tiny" won first award in the 15-inch class chase while "Ohio Junior" was given fourth place in the 15-inch class. A third dog received a ribbon when it qualified in the reserve group.

Camarda has entered his dogs in the beagle derby which will be held at Kinsman, near Youngstown, Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15.

Ohio Traffic Toll

promised by Ohio Bell telephone officials.

Repair crews of the telephone, together with those of the American Telephone and Telegraph company have been working day and night since Thursday's storm. Total damage to wire equipment has been estimated at $1,500,000 by telephone company authorities, who said more than 17,000 poles had been pulled down by sleek-encrusted wires.

The Toledo, Bowling Green and Southern Traction company has announced that no cars will operate between Toledo and Findlay for at least three weeks, owing to broken power lines. The Norwalk division of the Lake Shore Electric was reported still blocked, but service was in effect on the Sandusky division.

Findlay, without electric current four nights, due to broken power feeds, was expected to have service today.

Famed Pastor Here

"Last of the old guard and the Grand Old Man of Glasgow."

Unique in his manner of preaching and given to breaking out in song during his discourse, Dr. Robertson exuded deep spirituality that cast a spell over his hearers.

Makes Rounds of Churches.

He told of arising early and taking communion at St. Stephen's Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock, then stopping at the First Methodist Protestant church for an interim to hear Dr. Broomfield from where he proceeded to the First M. P. church to preach in the morning. "Since I thought I was to speak in the Baptist church here and was converted 60 years ago in a Methodist church I can be regarded as having made the rounds of the co-operating churches in this revival and some more," he confided.

Dr. Robertson also disclosed the fact that while speaking to 7,000 persons in the famed Rev. C. H. Spurgeon's church—the Metropolitan Tabernacle of London—he received and read to his audience the news that their pastor was passing away.

Mrs. Louis Zoeckler, Chester avenue, how Lord Allenby, who had just lost a son in battle, wired King George and Lloyd George whether he should fire upon and demolish Jerusalem during the World war was vividly told by Dr. Robertson. "Pray," was the laconic message returned in 25 minutes to the British commander by his government's superiors. With tears coursing his cheeks Lord Allenby on his knees supplicated, Dr. Robertson said, "Lord, my boy is with thee; Shall I fire?" And as he and his officers prayed the Turks within the city's walls capitulated.

Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, the pastor, presided. Rev. A. H. O'Brien of the First Baptist church, made the invocation.

Prof. Hugh F. Laughlin directed a session of congregational singing with Mrs. T. C. Flick as accompanist. Mrs. Hazel Griffith Moore sang "He Was Despaired" from the Methodist hymn book, "Behold the Lamb of God" by Handel.

Rev. Mr. O'Brien made a plea for co-operation and prayer during this the final week of the revival. Dr. Hawkins also stressed the need for personal sacrifice by all followers of the Nazarene.

forces would "carry on," leaders allied with the Willis movement here today stated that no policy has yet been determined upon to govern the activities of the Willis forces during the balance of the Ohio campaign which terminates April 24 at the statewide presidential preference primaries.

Willis Candidates to Meet.

Willis candidates for delegates and alternates from Ohio to the Republican national convention, who attend the funeral services of Senator Willis at Delaware tomorrow afternoon, are scheduled to meet there after the funeral and determine upon a course of action for the rest of the pre-primary campaign.

Leaders of the Willis forces here today declined to comment upon the report that friends of Vice President Charles E. Dawes and former Governor Frank O. Lowden, Illinois, would urge that the Willis candidates designate Dawes or Lowden as their "first choice" for the presidency.

Close State House.

Governor Vic Donahey, accompanied by his military staff, various state officials, and practically the entire staff at Willis and Hoover state headquarters, including former Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, managing Hoover's Ohio campaign, will attend the Willis funeral.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Walter F. Brown, also, expects to go to the funeral, it was stated.

Officials at the statehouse will be closed tomorrow afternoon out of respect to the memory of Senator Willis.

Locher Likely Successor.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 2.—Attorney Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, state director of commerce, Democrat, today retained his position as the person most likely to be selected by Governor Vic Donahey to succeed the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis as one of Ohio's representatives in the United States senate.

Donahey, it was indicated today, is expected to announce Wednesday whom he will appoint.

The Cleveland Federation of Labor, through James Malley, secretary, endorsed Director Locher for the senatorial post, it became known today. The Wayne county Democratic executive committee has recommended the appointment of Congressman John McSweeney, Wooster.

Former U. S. Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland; Judge Florence Allen, of the Ohio supreme court; director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax, Former Congressman Robert Crosser, Cleveland, and William A. Ashbrook, Johnstown, Licking county; Albert A. Scott, Cambridge, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, and Mayor George Denton, Medina, have been suggested by friends for this position.

Urge Donahey for Place.

Mayor Denton is expected to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the 14th district, succeeding Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, in the event that Davey is selected at the August primaries as the Democratic nominee for governor.

Some ardent friends of the governor were advising that Donahey resign as governor and that Lieut. Gov. Earl Bloom, Bowling Green, who would automatically succeed him as Ohio's chief executive, appoint Donahey to succeed Willis.

Intimate advisers of the governor today expressed belief that Donahey would not entertain such a proposal. Doubt was voiced whether the governor would heed such a suggestion even if it were in form of a resolution adopted by the Democratic state executive or central committee.

It is reported Locher would serve until his successor is elected at the Ohio polls next November and qualified. It was thought that in the event of his appointment, Locher would be a candidate next fall to succeed himself and fill out the term of Senator Willis which expires on March 4, 1933.

MAN JUMPS TO DEATH WHEN WIFE'S
"FULL HOUSE" WINS POKER GAME

NEW YORK, April 2.—"I don't win this pot, I'll jump out of the window."

Thus spoke John Taber, 31, a salesman, when he picked up a straight in a friendly five and ten-cent poker game last night at the home of Robert Miller, a friend.

"Yes," you will, derided the other players, Miller and the wives of the two men.

After the draw, Taber and his wife kept raising each other and the Millers dropped out. Taber, who had been dosing steadily, finally wavered and called. He displayed his straight.

"No good," said his wife, "I've got a full house."

Taber was annoyed.

"Let's see it," he demanded.

Mrs. Taber laughed, pocketed the money, and threw her cards into the discards, face down.

A violent quarrel followed. Taber stepped into the next room. There was a crash. The other ran to the window and saw Taber writhing on the payment of the alleyway one story below. He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 2.—Saturday's closing profit-taking selling of the market leaders was carried into the early trading today, and prices in some sections of the market declined sharply. Radio lost 8 points on its first sale of 10,000 shares at 17 1/2 and losses of a point or more were recorded in General Electric, Union Pacific and other high-priced stocks.

Reports that the New York bankers would agitate for a sharp curtailment of bank borrowings for speculative purposes and that stocks offered for collateral were being much more conservatively valued, created some unsettlement in the big financial district.

Bulls in the stocks soon whipped Radio back to 18 1/2, Saturday's closing price, where extremely heavy trading took place. General Electric and General Motors held their ground a point or two below Saturday's close, with buying and selling orders pouring in from all sections of the country.

the outrages. He discussed causes for rioting at Mer Rouge, South Bend, Herrin, Carnegie, and other places.

Charges Judges Were Bought.

The former dragon told his leader, ship of the Klan, of its formation and early prosperity under the idealistic rule of Emperor Simmons. Then he revealed the evils of later Klan rule.

When Simmons was ousted from leadership, the Klan continued to scheme against men it could not bend to its purposes, Stephenson said.

"Women," Stephenson declared, "were the chief and most effective means of destroying Klan opponents."

"In several cases, one of these women was photographed while scantily clad and then, by skilled photographic manipulation of the pictures, the Klan's enemies would be combined in the same view."

"One instance is where an attempt was made to involve the name of Senator Fess with that of a woman. The Klan reason was because Senator Fess had voted against the Sterling-Towner bill, which would have abolished parochial schools and had for its object other purposes."

He told how the Klan bought judges by pledging them enough votes to elect them, how legislators were put in office to vote for bills suitable to the society.

Questioned on political policies, he told of initiating Governor Ed Jackson who, he said, had visions at one time of going into the White House through aid of the Klan.

Cites Niles, O., Riot.

Hiram Evans, he said, at one time told him he was going to move the national offices of the Klan to Washington, D. C. "There to do for the United States what he (Stephenson) had done for Indiana."

He revealed existence of the "black mask" worn by members of lynching and whipping parties. It was, he said, the official uniform used in acts of mob violence. He mentioned also the "Battalion of Death," a purple robed group of killers in Philadelphia and other communities.

Riots at Niles, Ohio, and Perth Amboy, New Jersey, in which klansmen were killed, were sponsored by the Klan, he said, in order to increase membership.

Asked for membership figures, Stephenson said that at the peak of its prosperity in 1922 the Klan had 15,000 members in Indiana, 350,000 in Ohio, 300,000 in Pennsylvania, 60,000 in New Jersey, and 300,000 in all the rest of the New England states. Illinois was slightly below Indiana, the witness said, while Michigan was about the same as Indiana. Wisconsin had 6,000.

The organization took in between fifty and sixty million dollars during the time in which he held office, Stephenson said.

Stephenson's deposition will be used in a suit, to be heard April 9, in which five former Klansmen are seeking to have the Klan barred from Pennsylvania, on ground that it has incited riots, misappropriated huge sums and exerted evil influence on public officials.

BOY IS BITTEN
BY MAD DOG

Charles Wyner, 11,
Receives Pasteur
Treatment.

Canine owners in the Pleasant Heights district were ordered by police today to keep their pets tied for 10 days as the result of a mad dog scare.

Charles Wyner, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyner, Spring Grove avenue, was receiving the pasteur treatment today to guard against rabies. The child was bitten by a dog which experts at Columbus found to be suffering from rabies.

The boy was playing in the kitchen of his home last Thursday when the dog attacked him, biting him on the back in several places. The animal was killed and its head shipped to Columbus for examination.

Four other dogs, which the Wyner animal is alleged to have bitten, were killed Sunday by Patrolman Richards. Police planned to shoot six others today but the order was later rescinded. Dogs found to be running at large will be shot, police warned.

Campbell Merchants Successfully Defend Tri-State Laurels

Nose Out Oxford Quint In Final Tourney Tilt

Paulsey Voted Most Valuable Man; Carries Off Scoring Honors; Firth Smith Best Foul Shooter.

Nosing out the East Liverpool Brian Clothiers, 29 to 25, in the tri-finals, and the Bethany Bisons, by the same score, in the semi-finals, the Campbell Merchants, Tri-State champions in 1927, successfully defended their honors by defeating the Oxford A. C., of Oxford, O., in the final clash Saturday night of the third annual Tri-State basketball tournament. The count was 32 to 28.

First Team	Second Team
McCord, Federal Reserve	Rush, Bethany
Strauss, Campbell	Clouser, Oxford
Paulsey, Campbell	Burke, Lex Sandwich
Richardson, Oxford	Kastor, Oxford
Hamil, Bethany	Sheets, Canton Sherers

The contest climaxed one of the most brilliant basketball carnivals that local sports followers probably have ever witnessed in which college stars, ex-highs and independent luminaries of the first rank, representative of all portions of the tri-state district, competed for the championship.

The Campbell Merchants, brought here by the mayor of Campbell, a Youngstown suburb, are the Y. M. C. A. champions of Ohio. Prior to the tournament they performed under the colors of the Big Y of Youngstown.

Two small, fast dribblers and marksmen at forwards; two stalwart giants at guard and Tony Paulsey himself at center—that's the crew that won the title. There was little that was flashy about their work. They played a steady, consistent game and they never quit. That's probably the whole story of their success. In more than one game the Youngstowners were points behind their foes—but instead of faltering or becoming discouraged they seemed to uncover some secret store of energy that revitalized their forces and they plowed ahead more strongly than ever.

In partisanship the house was pretty well divided in the final when the Merchants defeated the Oxford A. C., one of the cleanest-cut teams in the meet.

The Oxfordians, who traveled the farthest to reach the tournament, reached the final by virtue of their victory over the strong Federal Reserve team of Cleveland, led by "Shrimp" Orin, ex-Mount Union star.

The Cleveland bankers then clashed with the Bethany Bisons in the consolation match and the Bisons won.

Fans could hardly have asked better basketball, better sportsmanship, better all-around performance that that accorded them by this quartet in the consolation and the final.

At the close of the meet, tournament directors, referees and other officials conferred on prize awards and announced their selections as follows:

Most valuable man—Tony Paulsey, Campbell Merchants.

High individual scorer—Paulsey (69 points).

Best foul shooter—Firth Smith, Brian Clothiers, East Liverpool.

Best sportsmanship—Oxford A. C.

Best appearance—Bethany Bisons.

Best equipped—Sherer Soda Grills, Canton.

Firth Smith, the slim East Liverpool lad who led the Brian Clothiers in a series of battles that took them to the tri-finals, also was one of the outstanding figures of the tourney. The Western Reserve star played a wonderful game for the local combine and the performance of the team in general, considering that it was a pick-up combination that had not played together this year, left little to be desired.

Management of the tournament, a job that required almost 24-hours-a-day attention Friday and Saturday, was accomplished well by the staff in charge of business affairs, including George T. Kildner, O. E. Greenawalt and Harding Connell.

William Watkins, in charge of officials, devoted no small amount of time and energy to the meet, working the semi-finals and final himself. In other games of the tourney he was assisted by a staff including O. E. Greenawalt, John Bricelin and F. J. Wise.

Scoring was in charge of Emmet Crawford, assisted by Howard Lindell, William Dickey, as chief timer, told them when to start and when to stop. In this he was assisted by William Swaney.

SOX GRAB GAME AT SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., April 2.—By way of proving it could be done, Ray Schalk's hard luck White Sox went out yesterday and grabbed themselves a ball game. Proving further that anything is likely to happen, they made it a shutout affair. The local Texas league club was the victim, and the score was 5 to 0, and Tommy Thomas was the happy young pitcher who performed the miracle.

REVENGE SWEET, SMILES CUYLER

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—Hazen Cuyler, Pirate castoff, wore a smile today that seemed to say, "revenge is sweet." It was Kiki's homer yesterday that helped the Cubs to their fourth straight victory over Cuyler's former mates. The score was 7 to 5.

TRIBE COMING NORTH TUESDAY

NEW ORLEANS, April 2.—The Cleveland Indians were packing up today preparatory to starting north Tuesday, Sunday the Tribe closed their New Orleans series by walloping the Pelicans 12 to 1.

Dick Stahlman, recruit catcher, will be left with the local club for seasoning, according to General Manager Billy Evans.

Making Tunney-Heenev Scrap Pay Dividends is Job for Magician and Not for Mere Promoter

There'll be no Dempsey, Critics Point Out, to Swell Receipts.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Tex Rickard already has proved that he is the greatest of all sport promoters. He can now begin proving that he is a magician. Only a guy who can reach into a tall hat with his bare arm and come out with a ton of coal, neatly tied in baby ribbon, figures to show the board of directors any great profit on a Tunney-Heenev fight for the heavyweight championship, announcement of which was made on Saturday.

For the first time since Rickard removed his bar room apron in favor of a frock coat, he is going out to try to pick up the big money with an oyster frock. He always had a steam shovel in other years. The Gans-Nelson fight couldn't miss. Neither could Jeffries and Johnson. These fights promoted themselves, which was fortunate because it is doubtful whether Rickard knew what it was all about at that time.

Later, when times were better and so was Rickard, along came Jack Dempsey with a series of knockouts and the Willard-Dempsey fight was made. So was the entire fight game when Dempsey won in the early minutes of play. The Dempsey-Carpenter fight was a "natural" because of the latter's glamor. Also the Dempsey-Firpo bout for the same reason. The first Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia drew a great crowd because nobody had seen Dempsey fight for three years and the Chicago affair repeated because they just had to see Dempsey again.

There's the story of Tex Rickard. Dempsey, Dempsey, Dempsey!

Can this refrain be altered to sound like Heenev, Heenev, Heenev? The writer is pleased to think not.

For one thing, Heenev is a "cold" challenger. There is no demand for him to fight Tunney or anybody else, for that matter. They might have tossed him in there with Johnny Risko but that fight didn't figure to gross heavy money, after the apathetic series of "eliminations" that were held this winter, and so it was allowed to go by default. Now, they are asking this challenger, who couldn't draw too much with a natural rival, to go in there and produce a million dollar gate with a champion whom everyone characterizes as a "Kick-in against any of them."

And it could just as well have been any of "them,"—Sharkey, Delaney, Risko, Paulino, etc.—because there is no real stand-out in the lot. If Risko had been born in Kamchatka and not Cleveland, he might have received the nod, there being no doubt that Heenev's selection was influenced by the fact that he is a foreigner who might figure to inflate the occasion with an air of internationalism.

Because of this, Rickard may be playing straight in his threat to take the Tunney-Heenev fight to England. The jolly blighters are not accustomed to pay $50 for ringside rows and altogether there would not be any Chicago or Philadelphia purses there but Rickard may have reason to figure that a ton of shillings will be worth more than an ounce of dollars.

At that, it will be the cheapest fight Rickard has put on since the principals received a flat half-million in guarantees. This time, Rickard reckons he can get out from under for less than $800,000, Tunney's contract calling for a guarantee of $525,000 and a percentage of the receipts over a certain figure.

Yes, it sounds very easy if you say it quickly enough. Connie Mack thought it was easy, too, until he tried winning ball games in 1915 without his old stars.

Perhaps Rickard can put this one over big without a Dempsey. If he does, I shall not take off my hat to him. The hat, in fact, won't be available. I'll be eating it.

M'Donough Signs Welterweights For Next Monday's Program

Toronto Team Sees Hope for 1928 Comeback

New Faces in Squad as Campaign Nears.

ALBANY, Ga., April 2.—A new manager, a new shortstop, three new outfielders, new pitchers and new catchers are working together with what remains of the Toronto 1926 international league champions, in the hopes of staging a comeback.

Last spring Lee Fohl started out where Dan Howley had left off. He had a good ball club but didn't get results for some reason or other. Anyhow a change was made in mid-season and Bill O'Hara, an old playing star who was in the business office of the Toronto Leafs, took charge of the playing end. All he could do was get the club through the season without further setbacks and he did. Now he's starting out all new and hopes to do something with a club that he has modelled himself.

Infield Changes.

He made a change on his infield disposing of Bob Lamotte and buying Warren Cote from the Toledo champions of the association. That has helped a lot. The infield looks a lot better with Cote in there. He has pepper as well as ability.

The outfield is almost brand new. A speedy boy from Omaha, who can hit, steal bases and chase runners, is in right field. He is one of the fastest men in baseball. Stanley Keyes, rapid gardener from Asheville, is in left. In between is Sumpter Clark, several years ago with Jack Dunn and since with Birmingham, the Cubs, Cleveland and Albany, Ga., the latter club as manager.

The pitching staff gets back Jess Doyle from Detroit, and also gets Rip Collins from the same club providing he decides to report. It has Don Hankins, too, and Don Songer, a southpaw from the Giants. William Martin, another southpaw, has been recalled from seasoning in the sticks, and will start the season as a regular member.

The good leftovers are John Prudhomme and Clarence Fisher. The former is rather new in baseball but already has a no-hit game to his credit. Manager O'Hara looks for him to be one of the league's greatest pitchers this year with upwards of twenty victories. Fisher is due for another big year. He is a dependable right-hander of the submarine delivery. He has been in the league for years and has always been a hard man to beat.

Fisher, Prudhomme, Doyle, Hankins and Collins should win rather regularly.

There are a lot of lefthanded batters in the league, however, and it may be that these good right handers will need a southpaw brother to help them win more games than they lose.

Fred Burchell, in 1926 manager of the Newark club, which might have won the pennant had the reserve strength been present when injuries beset the stars, is now assistant manager of the Leafs. He and O'Hara are old friends, having played together for the Baltimore Orioles in the early days.

Burchell is a good man for O'Hara. Competition is keen in the international this year. Every club is bolstering for a hard fight. And practically every club has gone in for an assistant manager. Burchell right now is handling the pitchers. He was quite a pitcher in the old days and he knows that end of the game.

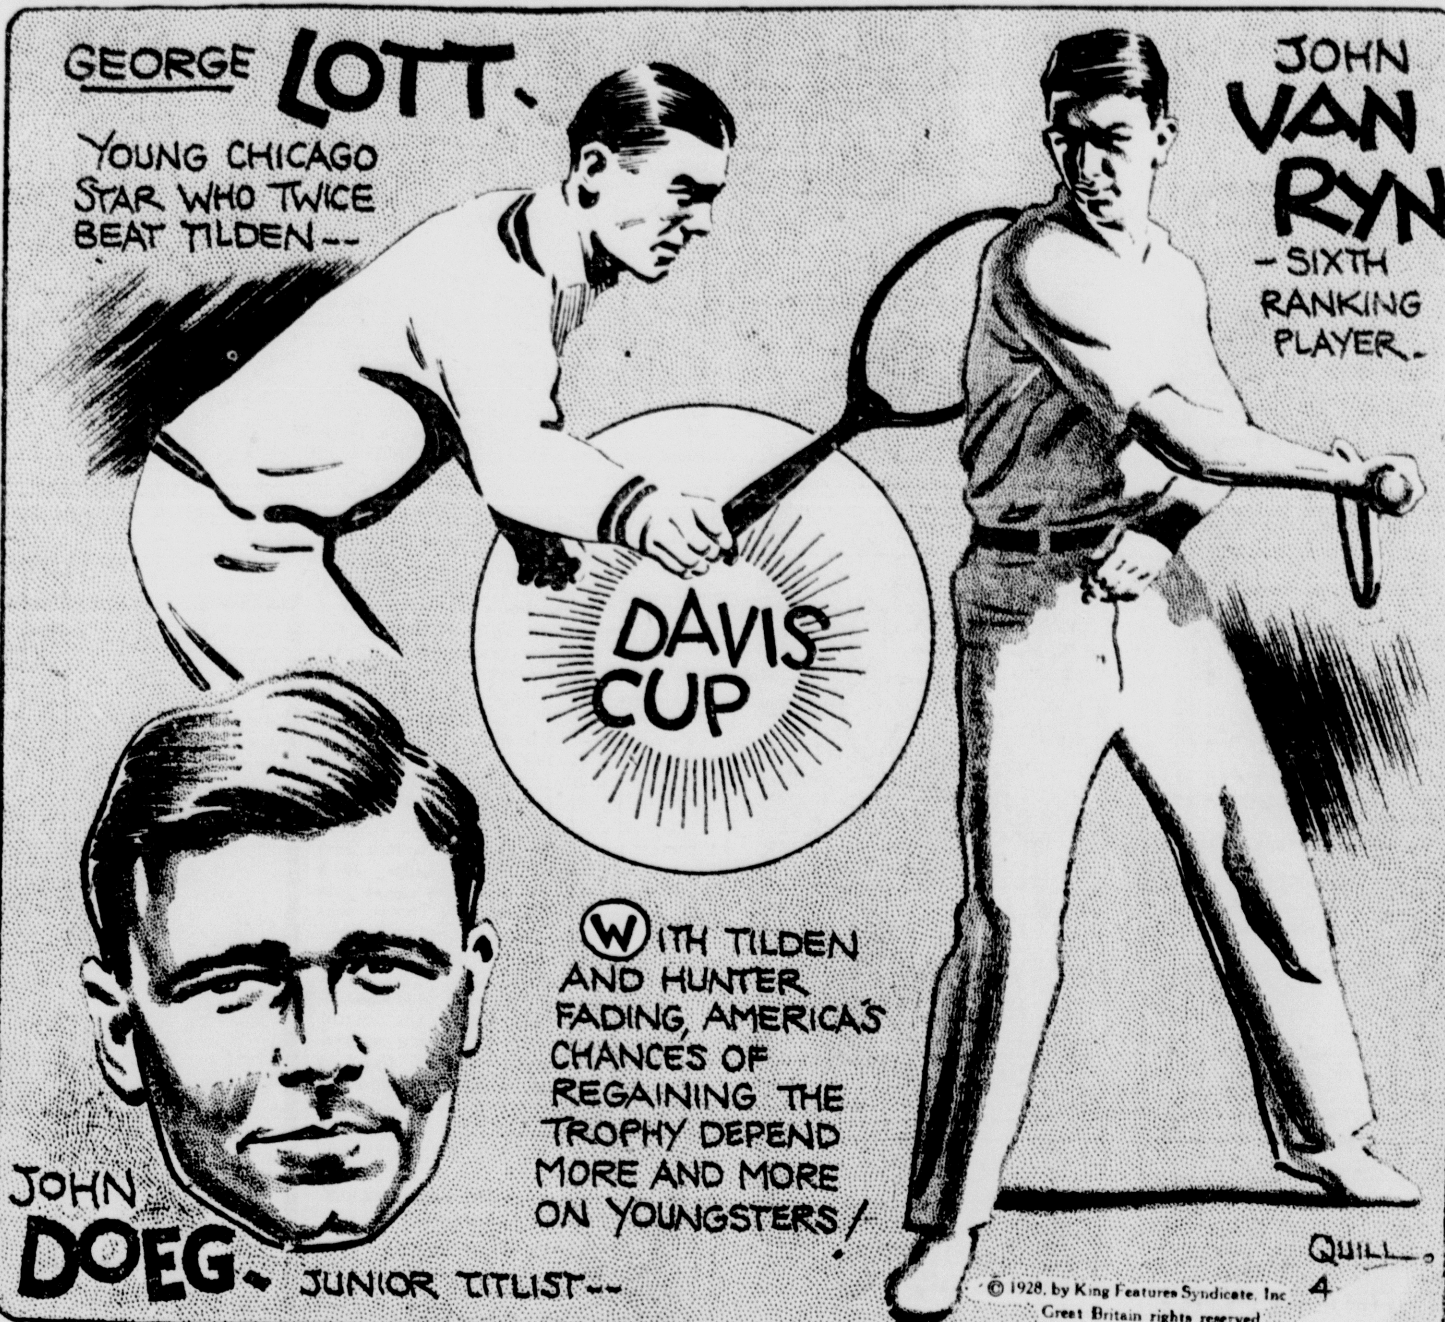

What Toronto really needs, however, is an old catcher like Steve O'Neil to handle these classy pitchers. Steve got results.

Toronto will get a catcher from Detroit, and perhaps one or two more players before the start of the season.

LISENBEE WILL FACE McGRAWMEN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 2.—The Senators will try to take the rubber game from the Giants today in the spring exhibition series. Horace Lisenbee, considered by many to be the best young pitcher developed in the American league last season, will do the mound work for the Nats.

Marathoners Finish Third Of Long Grind

Bunions Glad as They Leave Deserts Behind.

TUCUMCARI, New Mexico, April 2.—C. C. ("cross country") Pyle's bunions were spurred on today as they neared Tucumcari, with the thought that the trek of 36 miles would carry them nearer inhabited areas and away from the gruelling grind of the desert.

Yesterday's lap of 32.2 miles from Santaros, the city of lakes, where water is unfit to drink, to Newkirk, the hamlet of abode dwellings, found the runners and walkers checking in to the control with no casualties. This was considered the more remarkable, in view of the chicken and trimming dinner spread by Pyle as a reward for the 94 caravanners' conquest of the first 1,000 miles of the 3,400 mile jaunt.

Arne Suominen, Detroit, leader through the 1,036.3 miles from Los Angeles to Newkirk, with an elapsed time of 172:52:15, struck off at his leisurely stride that gain momentum as he nears the nightly control.

Andrew Payne, the Claremore, Okla., farmer boy, grabbed second place by finishing fourth yesterday, thus pulling down the margin previously held by Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England.

DENY JOHNSON SERIOUSLY ILL

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Reports that Walter Johnson, for twenty years the speed ball ace of the American league, is suffering from tuberculosis were denied today by his physician, Dr. H. M. Kaufman.

Johnson was brought to Emergency hospital here last week from Florida. He has lost nearly 60 pounds in weight, and was taken from the train in a wheel chair.

Nickel Plates Battle B. & O. In "Y" Final

First and Second Half Winners Meet Tonight.

In the final clash of the Y. M. C. A. senior basketball league season, the B. & O. and the Nickel Plates will tangle tonight on the "Y" court.

The Plates won the first half championship and the B. & O. finished ahead in the second half competition.

A hot battle between the two rivals is forecast.

Cotton sewing, embroidery and crochet thread used in embroidery and drawn work in Porto Rico last year weighed 300,000 pounds.

TILDEN PLANS TENNIS TOUR

NEW YORK, April 2.—Advices reaching the Davis cup committee here indicate that William T. Tilden, captain and czar of the American Davis cup team, is routing the team into a barnstorming tour which will take in the entire country from coast to coast.

Tilden is carrying on negotiations now for two "exhibition" dates with others projected to follow. The most immediate is a trip to Dallas, Texas, for a series of exhibition matches to take place before the first round Davis cup match with Mexico next week. "Big Bill" is also negotiating for a trip to California for a number of exhibitions.

Young Piazza, Taylor Meet in Eight Rounds

Sweeney, of Mingo Junction, Back in Semi-final; Seek Fred Edwards and Ray Mitchell for Prelim.

Matchmaker Tom McDonough, after scouring the district for available timber, today announced the booking of Young Piazza, well known Pittsburgh welterweight, and Harry Taylor, of McKeesport, for the eight-round main bout on the Eagles' fight card next Monday night.

Young Sweeney, the Mingo Junction youngster who made a good showing against Frankie Porto, of McKeesport, in their six rounder here recently, will be back again in the semi-final, meeting Red Casselino, of Pittsburgh.

McDonough is seeking the services of Freddie Edwards, the Chester boy, for a four rounder with Ray Mitchell, but has not yet completed negotiations for their scrap.

In the four-round prelim, Edgar Rose, of the East End, will take on Louis Campbell, of Newell.

Otto Reisel, the latter present champion, are entered in the meet.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

"You are making it very hard, Miss Lyle," he said. "I tell you it is dangerous. To put it bluntly, it would probably cost you your life to go over there. It is dangerous even to stand here—there is the risk of a shot. I want you to get behind the boat and sit down. It will at least afford temporary shelter."

"You are preposterous! Worse!" Her voice was almost out of control. "I don't know what your intentions are, but I know that I have nothing to fear from those poor souls out there. Here—with you—is the only place where I know I am not safe. And I will not stay here!"

Again she struggled to break away, and again Bob Kingsley held her back.

"Once before tonight," he said in sudden huskiness, "you obliged me to use main force for your own good. Am I to do it again? I am quite capable of it, you know—and I will, unless you sit down there at once behind that boat!"

"I wish—I wish I had killed you when I fired at you!" Her voice, shaken with passion, was scarcely above a whisper. "Do you know what loathing means—the sight of you, the touch of your hands on me?"

"I am sorry," he said hoarsely. "Will you do as I ask you?"

"No!" she flung at him. "Stay here for an instant with the beast who killed my brother! No!"

He picked her up in his arms without a word, though she fought him furiously, carried her behind the boat, and set her down on the sand. He sat down beside her—but nearer the bow of the boat where, around the prow, he had an unobstructed view of the beach. And, fearful that she would make an attempt to spring to her feet and run from him, he still kept one hand on her arm.

"You will pay for this!" Her voice was suddenly, curiously listless. "You had better make the most of the time you have! It will not be for long. I suppose you know, I suppose they told you when you landed—or else you would not dare do this—that all the other boats were lost, and that even Mr. Carter, dying and too weak to save himself, was pitched into the water, when, once, our boat went nearly over; but the serang was also in the boat, and he has gone for help to some place that he said was not far away. So—so it will not be for very long."

He saw the slim shoulders shake, the small head, with its wealth of hair that was tumbled in turtan masses now about her face and neck, droop lower. She kept on striving, in almost a mechanical way now it seemed, to push his hand away.

"I won't hold you, if you will promise to stay where you are." He heard himself speaking; but his voice sounded unfamiliar—it broke strangely.

There was no answer.

He removed his hand from her arm.

She turned her head to glance at him quickly, as though to read and anticipate his next act, but made no other movement.

He stared once more along the beach. They were all together in a crowd out there. A queer, twisted smile crossed his lips. Chen-shu was not a brave man—neither were any of the other four. They knew he was not armed. To cross a hundred yards or more of open beach would cost some of them their lives. They were not likely to risk it. But they would not be any the less implacable on that account. For the moment the turn of the cards was against them, but they would merely wait with their inexhaustible Oriental patience, until by their own cunning or the reversal of fortune, fate would play into their hands! If they were idle now, perhaps squinting there and hidden by the Malays around them, their balm certainly weren't—Chen-shu's in particular! He, Bob Kingsley, was under no delusion on that score! But for the time being, since it depended wholly on keeping Chen-shu and his lot at arm's length until the serang returned from Aora with help, Verna here was reasonably safe. After that, it became another problem. It would depend then on the number of white men resident in Aora—and he was not optimistic in that regard. But then there was Kahan! If Kahan found Nannu, it would put an entirely different complexion on the situation—and one that Chen-shu was little likely to relish!

The thought of Nannu brought him a sudden uplift—that was as suddenly dampened as he looked at the crouched figure beside him. Her face was as white as it had been there in the cabin when he had pitched through the doorway with that cursed and seemingly tell-tale knife in his hand and with the "holy man" beneath him. Her brother! And he, Bob Kingsley, was a murderer—and, furthermore, a dog with a bad name. Circumstantial evidence! But it was strong enough! He did not blame her. In her place he would have arrived at the same verdict. How was he going to disprove it?

She had moved a little away from him, and was staring stonily in front of her now—and, desperately as she obviously fought for self-control, he could see that her lips were quivering.

And, unbidden, an almost over-castering impulse came surging then upon him. He wanted to take her in his arms, and brush the hair tenderly back from her forehead, and comfort her. Comfort her! His very presence there only added to the horror of what she had been through, only embittered her grief and her suffering. He thrust his hands into his jacket pockets as though to imprison them there—they seemed intent on reaching out to touch her.

"I wonder if you will listen to me?" he asked weakly.

There was no answer.

"There were five Chinamen on the Monotah," he said. "They are out there on the beach now. They were in the boat with me. It was one of them who killed your brother."

She turned with swift, uplifted hand as though to strike him.

"Of course, you would lie," she cried fiercely; "but your lie is so feeble that it makes it all the more contemptible! I heard a cry outside my cabin, and I opened the door. But I saw no Chinaman there—only you and my brother struggling together—only you with the knife that killed him in your hand!"

"I came upon them just as the Chinaman struck your brother," he answered steadily. "I got the knife away—too late. The reason you did not see any Chinaman was because he ran away while your brother was reeling in my arms."

Her hand lay listlessly in her lap again. She turned her head aside.

"Naturally!" she said in a dead tone. "He ran away!"

CHAPTER 26.

Bob Kingsley bit his lips at the thrust. "After you had gone in the boat," he went on, "I discovered that another boat was still left. It had been jammed in the davits when the first attempt had been made to launch it. With the help of the Malay who had been left on board, I was getting it ready for launching again, when one of the five Chinamen knocked me on the head. They dragged me into the captain's cabin and searched me. They left me there trussed up to go down with the ship. I managed to get free just in time to jump into their boat when it was already well over the side. Chen-shu, the leader of the Chinamen, with his devil's mockery, thinking I was about to die, and not having found what he was after in my possession, informed me that they had already searched your brother's body, and having found nothing there either, knew that it must be you, then, who had what they wanted. They credited you, too, with knowing a great deal more than it was good for them that you should know. You are better able than I am to say just how far in that respect they are right or wrong. I do not know what passed between you and your brother, or to what extent you were in his confidence. In any case, they proposed to silence you just as they had silenced your brother, and as, or so they expected, I, too, would be silenced. What they are after, of course, is that little ivory idol that is now in your possession."

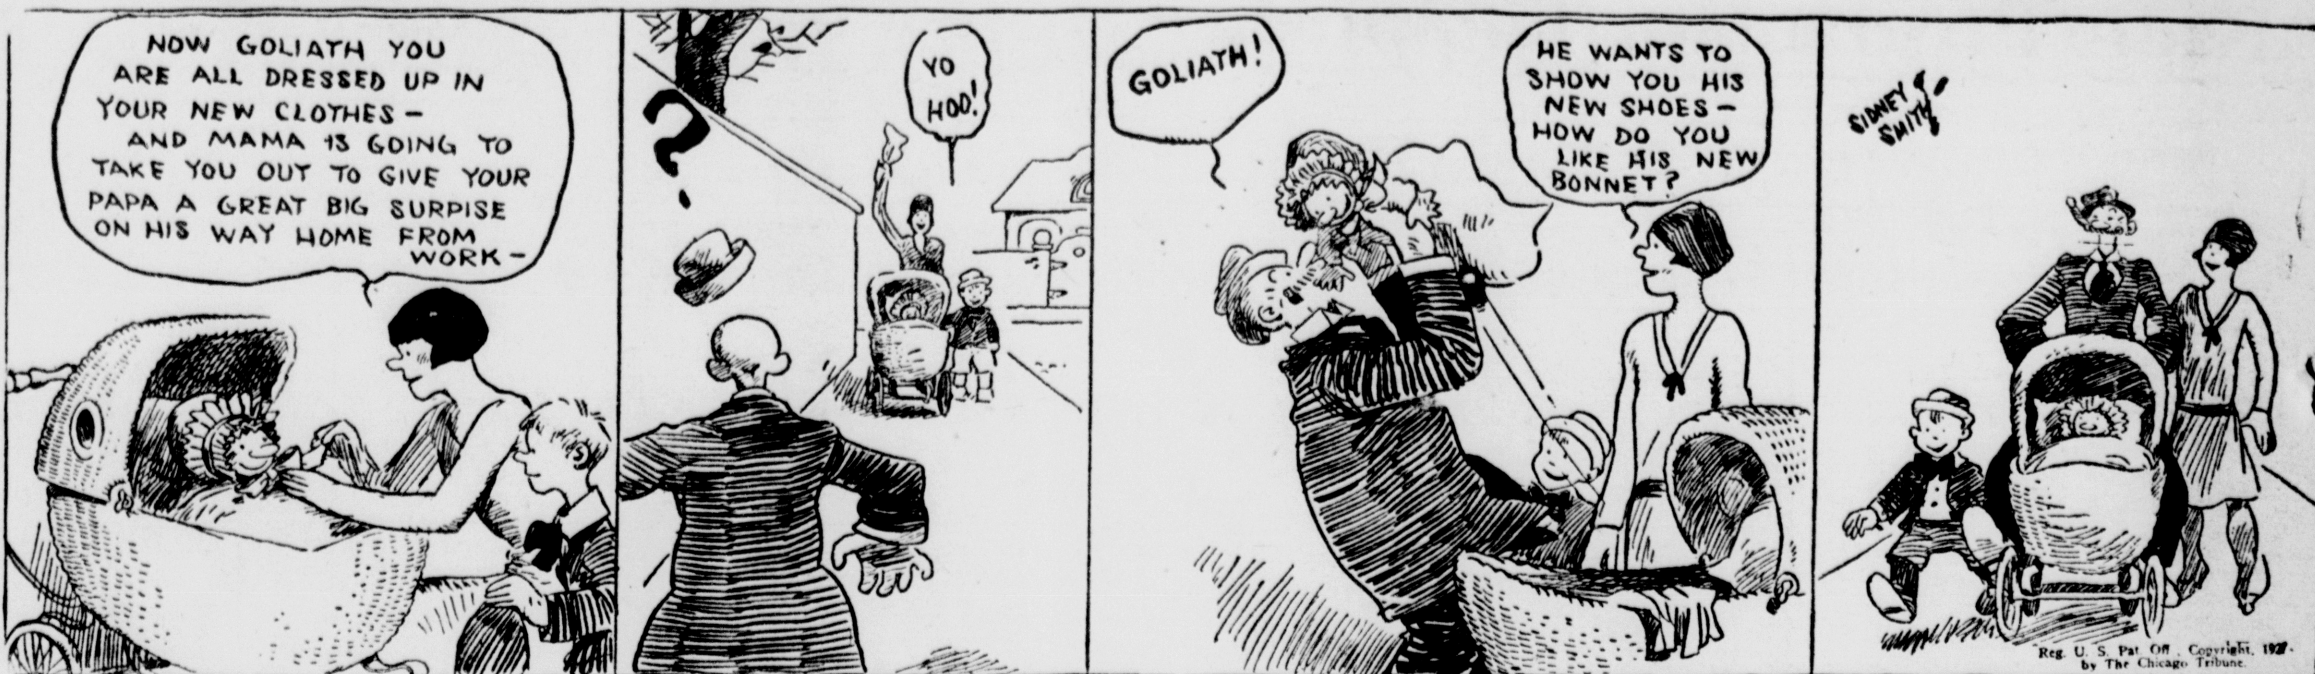

"What they are after!" She threw her words at him bitterly, swiftly. "I thought differently in the cabin; I think so now."

Bob Kingsley smiled wryly.

The Musical Comedy Hit "MY BOY JAKE"— ON THE SCREEN —

At the beginning Beery is Hatton's head waiter in a Brooklyn restaurant. The fortunes of war toss them up on the Franco-Swiss border just as the armistice is signed.

Hatton goes home and assigns Wally to look after his girl. Wally does by marrying her almost immediately but the marriage is really no doing of his own.

In the end, as usual, they both lose the girl to a younger and handsomer rival, but not before they have staged some spectacular chases over the snow-clad Alps, causing a couple of snowslides and launslides and a new set of international complications.
